

COMMITTEE WILL MEET TO-DAY FOR FIRST REAL STEP

Constitution and By-Laws for Richmond Athletic Association

Drafted This Afternoon.

A constitution and by-laws will be framed for the Richmond Athletic Association at a meeting of the committee appointed for that purpose, to be held this afternoon in the Central Y. M. C. A. building at 3 o'clock. Dr. Hagen, of the Medical College of Virginia, is chairman of the committee and has associated with him men who are able to render valuable aid and assistance. In addition to the place of the constitution and by-laws the committee will nominate officers. All of the work of the committee will then be submitted to a meeting of the organization, to be held at such time and place as may be suggested by the committee.

Probably never before has Richmond been so well awakened to the possibilities of such an organization of the good which must eventually come therefrom. When the idea was first suggested, even the most enthusiastic of those who fostered it felt something to the effect that it might not take hold in the proper manner. They knew that unless the first grip was firm, unless the impression made was lasting, unless every body was informed as to the meaning of the organization and informed so well and accurately that mistakes could not be made, hope of ultimate success was small.

But everybody has grasped the idea, and now the grasp is firm. Every organization in Richmond has joined in the movement. Now comes the Hermitage Golf Club, asserting that that organization will seek admission to the new organization. Just as soon as the work is swept clean of preliminary work, something real will be begun.

PERCENTAGE METHOD
New Method of Determining Ability to Pilfer Sacks Is Suggested.

New York, January 14.—Base runners in the not far distant future, may be ranked on a percentage basis, just as the work of the balmers, fielders and pitchers is now tabulated. It has been suggested that a record be kept of the number of times a man is caught trying to steal and the total number of successful attempts. Just as soon as the work is swept clean of preliminary work, something real will be begun.

President of A. A. U. Announces Men Who Will Do All Detail Work.

New York, January 14.—Gustavus T. Kirby, president of the Amateur Athletic Union, has made public his appointments to the various committees of the union. Seven committees and the delegates-at-large were named. The president followed the usual method of procedure in naming the presidents of associations to the important committees, but made several important changes, chief of which was his refusal to name any representatives from the Rocky Mountain association on the grounds that the members of that body justified his refusal to so honor them.

The other surprise was the dropping of Everett G. Brown, president of the Chicago A. A. U., from the championship committee. Blaming in his stead H. C. Barker, president of the Central American association.

Members of the Metropolitan Association were named as follows: James E. Sullivan was again named as chairman of the national registration committee and also heads the championship committee. Bartlett Weeks, of the New York A. A. U., is again named as the chairman of the committee of the most important bodies in the union.

Charles H. Weeks is also named for the championship committee. Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick is named as head of the public recreation committee. Mr. Kirby requesting permission to delay naming the other members of the committee. The same applied to the second committee, which was also delayed.

Members of the five delegates-at-large were appointed—namely: A. G. Mills, Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick and Charles H. Weeks, of the New York A. A. U., approved by the governors of the A. A. U. before becoming permanent.

NEW YORK IS ADMITTED.

Grand Circuit Races Will Now Be Held in Metropolitan—Three Heats Recommended. Pittsburgh, January 14.—Stewards of the Grand Circuit met here today and decided to adopt a rule providing that if a horse wins three stakes announced in the year it must appear in a class to which it is eligible by the lowest record it has made in any one of its winning races. The rule will be in effect for the year 1913.

The stewards considered the "three-heat system" of racing, a system which was adopted. It was recommended to all clubs in the Grand Circuit. Under the "three-heat system" each heat is race.

The following officers were elected: H. C. Devereaux, of Cleveland, president; Fred Post, of Detroit, vice-president; and J. J. King, of Cleveland, secretary. Detroit was chosen for the next annual meeting of the stewards.

For different meets also were selected at today's meeting.

Clyde Milan, of the Senators, was boss of the American League's Raffles brigade last night in the Casino. The Raffles was a speedy Washington star, who was well up in the running for the Chalmers American League Trophy, but according to the proposed way of reckoning, but that record hardly does him justice.

His class actually was a base runner of the backstop on only thirty-one occasions when he had been a star. The Raffles was a speedy Washington star, who was well up in the running for the Chalmers American League Trophy, but according to the proposed way of reckoning, but that record hardly does him justice.

In the Wake of the Game

By GUS MALBERT

While it was highly commendable on the part of the directors of the Virginia State Fair Association to increase the revenue through renting the grounds during the off season, and they given the matter serious thought they would have realized at once the utility of the plan. Even though the Broad Street Park Corporation had no interest in the grounds, the fact that the grounds of the association are so far removed from the car lines would have put the suggestion at once.

If the men of the Fair Association really desire to do a great and good work, they can come to the aid of the newly formed Richmond Athletic Association and give the grounds to that organization. The grounds of the association are so far removed from the car lines would have put the suggestion at once.

Washington, D. C., January 14.—The opening of the Virginia Poultry Show's exhibition at 508 East Main Street yesterday was by far the largest in the history of the organization. Hardly had the doors opened when a steady stream of visitors began an inspection of the hundreds of high class fowls.
